

THE EXCHANGE PROJECT

An original rock act based in Washington, DC combining high-energy fuzz-drenched guitars, inspired intricate bass lines, anthemic drums, and vocals that go from soulful baritone to full-out snarl in less than a blink of your bloodshot eye.

STORY

At the height of the pandemic, Tom Joss (guitar) and Patrick James (bass) began working on Joss' repertoire of stripped down, groove-based rock and roll riffs. The duo then recruited Omar Delgado (vocals) and Pablo Contreras (drums) to become The Exchange Project, a 50/50 American and Latino rock ensemble out of Washington, DC.

TXP will continue releasing singles in between studio sessions and play the local rock scene.
